PFLAG’s mission is a lofty one – to Support, to Educate, to Advocate.

Sometimes being an advocate may seem the hardest, entail the most courage, require the most impactful words, put ourselves in the most uncomfortable space. Not necessarily.

What really does it mean to be an advocate?
Webster submits an advocate is “one who pleads the cause of another; one who supports or promotes the interests of a cause or group” – and this can look so many ways.

How can each of us be an effective advocate for causes that affirm and celebrate the LGBTQ+ community. Explore PFLAG’s Advocacy tab on www.pflag.org to get started.

I offer three ways:

1. Be at the ready for that one-on-one conversation, for that moment when you realize you can make a difference. Educate yourself. Being informed, being able to separate fact from fiction and knowing someone has your back builds confidence when that moment presents itself. And when you have the chance to vote!! Let PFLAG help. Their Policy Statements on issues critical to the LGBTQ+ community help us stand on solid ground.

2. Put yourself in front of those that can make a difference for those of you gifted with that ability and opportunity. Fine tune your presentation skills and your ability to put forth a compelling position or stand firm on one that is being challenged. Let PFLAG help. Years ago, I participated in one of PFLAG’s webinar offerings on how best to approach your school board or your community leaders, how to find those best able to effect change, on whose ears your message best lands, how to stay on point, etc. It has helped me to this day in any number of forums. PFLAG offers numerous webinars on various topics of interest, providing opportunities not only to learn but to test your delivery skills. Explore PFLAG’s academy online, and their training tool kits. Legislative and advocacy one-pagers help provide that message and Resources are available to help with the mechanics. PFLAG’s Training Toolkits within their Academy On-line are there to further help.

3. Support the activists among us, those organizations and individuals with a well-trained voice, a well-prepared message, an impactful delivery, an accomplished support staff. Give them legs through your financial contribution to their work. Embolden them with your presence, involvement, encouragement. Identify those organizations advocating for the LGBTQ+ community that you most respect or whose message or focus or priorities most align with yours. For me, Equality Illinois comes to my mind, as does The Trevor Project ... there are countless others. And of course, let PFLAG help. This is PFLAG’s forte!

I am convinced there is a powerful advocate in each one of us.

Janet Mock, a transgender rights activist, author, and TY Host offered the following words: “I believe that telling our stories first to ourselves and then to one another and the world, is a revolutionary act.” Never underestimate the power of sharing those stories ... and your impact as an advocate when you do!

Your interest in and subscription to Open Doors is a statement of your advocacy!

And I thank you for that!

President,
PFLAG Council of Northern Illinois
Dear PFLAG Families and Friends,

The PFLAG Council of Northern Illinois is once again participating in the Chicago Pride Parade! This year’s parade will be held October 3, 2021. It is a one-time change of date due to Covid-19. The route remains the same as in years past. Please plan to join us as we show our pride! Pick your outfit, put on your best walking shoes and prepare for lots of love and excitement. Masks and social distancing are required for those not fully vaccinated.

This year we will again have a trolley. For maximum engagement, we selected the most open design we could find and expect it to be a great option for those who want to participate but are unable to walk the parade route.

The trolley holds 40 people and seats are available on a "first come first served" basis. To reserve a spot on the trolley and/or to ask any questions, please email info@pflagillinois.org. Preference will be given to PFLAG leaders, volunteers and members based on needs. So, please get your requests in ASAP to secure a seat. If you are not a PFLAG member or have not renewed your membership, it is easy to renew online at https://www.pflagillinois.org/membership-and-donation/

Since trolley space is limited, most of us will need to arrange to meet at our designated parade staging area prior to the parade start. We will not have the specific staging location until the week of the parade. Another email will be sent to Chapter leaders to share when we know our assigned staging location.

The parade kicks off at 12 noon sharp. Please plan to arrive early. We plan to take a group photo at 11:00 am. Public transportation is usually a good option for travel that day. The trolley is currently planned to be in place by 10 am. The parade route is close to the Red Line train and many people take the train and walk the final block or so to our staging location.

You may want to make posters for the event or decorate shirts highlighting your family or chapter. When making your posters, please keep in mind that PFLAG is a 501C3 non-profit, and as such we are prohibited from promoting any particular political party or candidate. Make it a fun day! Remember your hat or umbrella and sunscreen (and mask, if not vaccinated). We will provide water and snacks to sustain us for the event.

For additional information about the Parade, check the Parade website at http://www.chicagopridecalendar.org/

Thanks!

The timeline for the implementation of this policy is not yet available, and Sec. Blinken noted that adding a gender option “is technologically complex and will take time.” Updates on the process to change gender markers to X will be posted here.

On July 19th, the Federal Government issued guidance that PrEP must be covered by almost all insurance plans with no additional costs or fees. Clinic visits and lab tests are also included in the new coverage.

We are happy to say our Pride in the Parking Lot Celebration was a success. The weather cooperated and we were able to be both inside and outside. We had 200+ friends join us for music, food, games, crafts, face painting, an OUTrageous game of Bingo with Miss Lucy Foozi and Mr. D’s Magic and illusion show.

A fun-filled day for families and friends, many new faces and an overall feeling of love & celebration.

News from PFLAG Deerfield

by Jodi

PFLAG Deerfield met on Zoom in July. We are excited to announce we plan to return to in person meetings come September! Our plan is to have a hybrid meeting in order to accommodate those not yet comfortable returning; and also to allow us to continue to welcome our long distance participants. Masks and social distancing will be required for those not fully vaccinated.

Our July meeting began with Sue informing us of the PFLAG National Convention in October; Moving Equality Forward in July; and the return of the Chicago Pride Parade on October 3. We then welcomed the incredibly talented Lex Barberio as our guest speaker.

Lex is a multidisciplinary award-winning creative photographer. Lex’s journey with art began in high school and eventually led to a career in advertising. Lex shared that she came out as queer at 15 years old and “found herself through photography”. Lex took photographs of people she admired, used them as a sounding board for her own personal thoughts, and then figured out how to share that with the world.

Lex discussed her works Hydrophilic; The Ambisextrous; and Understanding Me. Hydrophilic was Lex’s first exhibit. It was taken on the rooftop of the Miami Ad School and was a visual coming out to her family and friends.

The Ambisextrous was Lex’s second big series and the first to make an impact. It was created in Brooklyn with her New York community and debuted as part of Stonewall 50 -WorldPride NYC 2019. The Ambisextrous speaks to gender fluidity. Each model is photographed as masculine, androgynous, and feminine. Lex credited the team of artists including the hairdresser and makeup artist who worked tirelessly on this amazing series.

Understanding Me is a photo series paired with a short film that explores the journey of twelve LGBTQIA+ people and their relationships with their gender and pronouns. This series was created in order to bridge the knowledge gap within and outside the LGBTQIA+ community. Understanding Me was at the Museum of Contemporary Art Long Island from May 8, 2021 to June 27, 2021. I think I speak for all of us present that this is an immensely powerful creative project.

Lex’ future plans include a comprehensive sex education book where all is explored, and all are informed. Undoubtedly, this will be also an important piece of work. Please check out Lex at LexBarberio.com. Better yet- invite her to your next meeting and experience her incredible talent for yourself. [Editor: see Lex’s works and read our interview in the November 2020 issue of Open Doors on the cover page and pages 11-15.]

Our meeting concluded with discussion, conversation and support. Happy Summer Everyone!

News from PFLAG Hinsdale

by Barb Medley

Since our PFLAG monthly meeting fell on July 4th, we hoped to meet the following Sunday at a park in Elmhurst – our first in-person gathering since the COVID pandemic lockdown. Unfortunately, it was rainy, and the gathering in Elmhurst was cancelled. Instead, we met on Zoom. Hopefully, for the August meeting we’ll be back in the Hinsdale Church from 2-4 p.m.

Our scheduled speaker on August 1st is Brigid Leahy from Planned Parenthood. She’ll speak about the REACH (Responsible Education for Adolescent and Children's Health) Act, which was developed based on input from people across Illinois, including youth, educators, social workers, sexual and interpersonal violence prevention experts, health care providers, and advocates. It requires updated sex education standards in Illinois public schools.
News from PTI Chicago

by Christine Peters

PTI Chicago welcomed 17 participants during our July meeting, as we continue to host many first-time participants, including some loving grandparents. We are all enriched by the range of experiences shared by parents who have a parallel journey to their child’s identity journey. We recognize the diversity of our experiences and the “danger of a single story” as first described by novelist Chimamanda Adichie. We occasionally hear parents express that their young child behaved in ways that fit their gender assigned at birth. How can they be trans or non-binary? They have heard stories of very small children resisting their assigned gender and think this is “the way” children who are trans behave. In fact, each story of gender exploration and coming out is unique. Our group has heard from parents who wonder if their child’s expression is real or a fad, or parents who are hesitant about medical intervention. I wonder if cisgender people, no matter how well-meaning, can ever truly understand the dysphoria or societal struggles experienced by trans folx? Our group certainly tries to provide empathy and support to questioning parents while remaining aware that our fears and anxieties can trigger others.

Ariel Groner, creator of “The List” (http://www.thelistforus.com/) is a collection of resources for the Trans and Gender Nonconforming community and their allies) and therapist at the Juniper Center, will be our guest speaker in August.

Our September plan is to hold another book discussion, this time on I Have Always Been Me: A Memoir by Precious Brady-Davis, an award-winning trans advocate and former outreach coordinator at Center on Halsted. You will receive an email on how to receive a copy of the book courtesy of PTI Chicago. Please plan on joining us!

We gather via Zoom on the second Thursday of each month. Next meeting is Thursday, August 12, 2021 from 7:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m. Members will receive an email the weekend before the meeting with the Zoom link and password to enter the meeting. Parent/s, guardians, or family members of transgender, non-binary or gender non-conforming individuals who would like to join us for the first time should e-mail PTI Chicago President Bill Guilfoile at bill.guilfoile@gmail.com

News from PFLAG DuPage

by Margaret Donahue

PFLAG DuPage is still meeting on Zoom. Our numbers are down a bit this summer but after a year of isolation people are catching up with family and rescheduled events from last year. We had 22 people join us on 7/18 for a wonderful talk by Andi Voinovich. Andi serves as the Associate Pastor of Downers Grove First United Methodist Church. Previously Andi shared their story as part of one of the Outward Journey programs. They are passionate about the intersection of faith and social justice. Many people come to PFLAG conflicted about how allyship affects their participation in their faith tradition. Andi’s experiences opened the floor to much discussion about how various institutions reconcile or don’t when challenged about policies of inclusion. During our discussion we learned that Youth Outlook is planning to host a drop-in center in Downers Grove at Andi’s church. This will be a tremendous asset to the community.

PFLAG DuPage will have an executive committee meeting on Saturday with discussion about leadership succession planning and how we move to meeting again as the pandemic ends, if it in fact is ending or just morphing. Naper Pride in Naperville will be holding, for the first time, a Pride Fest on September 11 and 12. Our group will host a table at the Naper Settlement venue. Members are encouraged to attend and volunteer beyond our table set-up as a way of getting back out in the world at least locally.

Please follow our Facebook Page; PFLAG DuPage of Wheaton and message if you would like to be on our meeting distribution list.
